Vial Of Vaccine Retrieved

Andover health authorities acted quickly Tuesday to retrieve a vial of swine flu vaccine with the lot number used in Pennsylvania where three elderly persons died after being administered shots.

Neil McDowell, Andover Board of Health Director, said the one vial, containing 50 doses had been sent to Phillips Academy.

About 3 p.m. Tuesday, state health authorities notified the Andover office of the lot number and that the vaccine should not be used pending further study.

McDowell called Dr. Douglas Dunbar, a board of health member, who went to the academy and retrieved the vial. It was returned to the office in town hall stamped and stored in the town hall office.

The three elderly persons who died in Pennsylvania, after being administered the swine flu vaccine, are believed to have died from causes not related to the immunization.

But health authorities were cautious, some states suspending the inoculation program and Massachusetts immediately stopping distribution of the particular lot number of the vaccine, manufactured by Parke-Davis.

McDowell emphasized that none of the vaccine, numbered 912 339-A had been administered and that the particular vial which had been sent to the academy is now marked.

Bowen Begins Emergence As Vocal Minority

Seven months after his election, Selectman Richard J. Bowen is emerging as the vocal minority on his board, which could have been anticipated.

Bowen, who as town manager in Andover seven years ago, was never at a loss for response or commentary on any issue, has begun questioning his colleagues and Chairman Milton Greenberg more and more in recent meetings, as well as inserting items on the regular agenda for the board.

Tuesday night, Bowen and Greenberg, had some minor confrontations over meeting dates, apparently perplexing to the other members of the board.

Bowen also had some lengthy commentary on establishing dates for the annual town meeting, had five items which he had placed on the agenda for consideration put off to the next meeting due to the lateness of the meeting, and found himself the lone vote in opposition to decisions on a few agenda items.

Study Guides Loosened

Looser homework guidelines, that leave more discretion up to Andover teachers, were passed by the school committee Tuesday night.

The action puts an end to the controversial guidelines passed two years ago, which set the number of minutes of homework to be given for each grade, beginning with the first.

Chairman George Olesen and Committeeman Frank Griggs, who had voted for the original homework policy, voted against the revision Tuesday night, with Olesen labeling it "excessively weak" and Griggs, "a step backwards."

Committeeman Joseph Finn, in voting for the revision along with Elaine Viehmann and David Ahouse, said the teachers had wanted to be treated as professionals and to have the discretion of administering homework. "It is my intention," he said, "to give them that opportunity."

The new guidelines set a minimum of one homework assignment each week in language arts and math for the

Named 'Trustee Emeritus

Edward I. Erickson

Retired Supt. of Schools Edward I. Erickson has been named Memorial Hall library Trustee Emeritus, the first such appointment of its type in Andover.

Erickson has been a member of the library trustees since 1953, having been elected when the position was on the annual town election ballot. He had been re-elected to the post and then, under the manager charter, appointed to the board since that time.

At the expiration of his present term, he was asked to continue his services as a member, emeritus, in view of his retired status and the fact that he sometimes spends several weeks in Florida in the winter. He was the recipient of a letter from Town Manager J. Maynard Austin asking that he continue to assist the trustees and accept the appreciation of the town for his long years of service to the board.

Erickson served when Memorial Hall provided the bulk of library services to the public schools.

Winning Attitude, Even In Defeat

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert told the school committee Tuesday night he was "tremendously proud" of the Andover High football team which lost its first game in 40 to Tewksbury Sunday.

Seifert said he didn't really find much difference in the outward attitude of players, and credited the coaches with instilling that attitude.

He called their level of maturity "outstanding" and "commendable."

Candidate's Night

The Andover School Committee Tuesday night gave the okay for the League of Women Voters to send home flyers promoting its Candidate's Night through elementary school pupils. Candidate's Night is set for Oct. 25.

Legislative Suggestions

School Committee Chairman George Olesen has asked committeemen to suggest possible school legislation that could be introduced at the state level.

Olesen will take the suggestions to Legislative Night of the Merrimack Valley Association of School Committees Dec. 2. MVASC will meet in Andover Nov. 4.

Gifted And Talented

A program for gifted and talented children has been passed on to the School Committee's subcommittee on curriculum and personnel.

The program, for pupils who have outstanding ability, would provide them differentiated educational experiences, including academic pursuits, lectures, demonstrations, field trips, hands-on experiences and the like.

Municipal Business Dates Set

The selectmen Tuesday night took a look at 1977 and established dates for the annual town election and town meeting, along with warrant closing and budget submission deadlines.

The annual town election will be March 28 and the opening session of town meeting will be a month later on April 25. The annual

One For Our Side

Attractively nestled in the countryside setting on the banks of the Merrimack River in Andover, and overlooking the hills of lower New Hampshire is the new Hewlett-Packard plant. With all the controversy about the Massachusetts economic outlook, the million dollar plant gives the state and town a substantial boost. Opening is expected within the month.

Plant Nearly Operational

Hewlett-Packard is gradually making its entrance into Andover.

The new plant in the West Andover industrial area is just about completed and in the process of preparation for opening.

Some of the warehouse crews have been at the plant, located well off River road and near the tree-lined banks of the Merrimack River, delivering materials in anticipation of the arrival of employees.

Bert Dole, who will be in charge of the Andover operation of the national firm, said this week that some employees will be arriving at the plant within the next couple of weeks.

It is planned to have about 130 employees at the outset, with a gradual buildup to 400-450 by this time next year.

The timetable established over a year ago for construction and occupancy of the building is about on time.

Hewlett-Packard announced its intent to locate in Andover, on property owned by Arkwright/Boston Insurance Co., about four years ago.

Since that time Andover town meetings have acted on the appropriation of funds to provide a trunk sewer line to the industrial area and negotiations have been carried out between the town, Arkwright and H-P on such matters as aiding the town with funding procedures and protection of conservation land near the plant site.

The building and parking lot is at the end of a boulevard type entrance road which has been planted with trees and shrubs.

The plant itself is surrounded by trees.

Rodino Here For Tsongas

Congressman Peter W. Rodino, Jr. (D-NJ) will be in the Fifth District to campaign for Rep. Paul Tsongas on Saturday, Oct. 16.

Rodino, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, will hold a 2 p.m. press conference at the Andover Inn and make a number of appearances in the Lowell and Lawrence areas on Tsongas' behalf.

The Rodino visit is billed as the Tsongas campaign's major fund-raising effort. Three separate fund-raisers have been scheduled. They include a luncheon at the Lanam Club in Andover at 2 p.m., a dinner at the Tsongas home in Lowell at 4 p.m. and a buffet at the home of Henry and Ruth Morgenthau in Cambridge at 7 p.m.

Also appearing for Tsongas on Oct. 16 with Tsongas and Rodino will be House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr. (Andover luncheon, Governor Michael S. Dukakis (Cambridge buffet), and Attorney General Francis S. Bellotti (Cambridge buffet).

Pot Luck Supper At Bancroft

The Bancroft P.T.O. will formally open its year of activity on Wednesday, Oct. 20 with a Pot Luck Supper served in the school cafeteria at 6:30.

Vice President Mrs. Michael Brink, chairman of the supper arrangements, will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Bicknell, Mrs. Frank Drake, Mrs. Frank Drozdick, Mrs. Reeta Horton, and Mrs. Mike Tucker. Bancroft parents will be contacted for reservations and Pot Luck contributions.

Following the dinner, President Peter Schwind will hold a short meeting introducing new faculty members, among them Ms. Gail McMakin, school adjustment counselor, who will briefly address the membership.

Featured speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Mary K. Hervol, who has returned to Bancroft after having spend last year in England as a Fulbright Exchange Teacher. She will present some of her experiences and her impressions of English education.

Parents are reminded that the meeting is open to adults only.

Council For Children Meets Here Wednesday

The Greater Lawrence Council for Children (GLCFC) will hold its annual election on Wednesday Nov. 10. At that time 22 people will be elected to its board of directors.

In preparation for these elections the council will hold an orientation meeting on Wednesday Oct. 20 at the Doherty School on Bartlet St., Andover in the second floor conference room from 7:30-9 p.m.

Robert Dumond, president of the Greater Lawrence Council stated that "The C.F.C. is a coalition of volunteer citizens whose common concern is advocating on behalf of youth. Although many children's groups have been operating in the area for a long time, the Councils for children are unique in that they were created by the Mass. Legislature with responsibilities mandated by law.

"The Council is interested in finding people who can spend a few hours a month working on problems which affect our young people," stated Dumond.

"The issues we tackle are determined by the membership, thus they have a vested interest in seeing some positive outcome."

A recent example of how this works was provided by Ms. Patricia Platzbecker, chairperson of the Councils Child Abuse+Neglect Comm.

"Early in the year a number of people stated their concern about abused and neglected children. Within a month we had a group together, discussed how we wanted to approach the problem, set up some tasks and time tables and moved with it. We began meeting with professionals in the community and put together a public Forum in August at which over 100 people attended. We now have gotten 30 new people who are going to be active participants in future work. That's Terrific!"

"More importantly through our coordination we got protective services, police, doctors, teachers, and lawyers working together, and we got much needed information out to the public. Hopefully we helped a lot of kids and their parents through this effort.

Robert Murphy Community Representative and staff to the Council pointed out that "We have openings in Chapter 766 The Special Education Law, in Legislative information and lobbying, and public relations."

"We also need people who can help make decisions on needed programs in the area such as 24 hour emergency services, day care, programs for handicapped and retarded youth, shelter facilities for families in crisis.

Among the ruins of America's early way of life which he has unearthed are: Pilgrim John Alden's home (c1627) in Duxbury, the Saugus Ironworks (1646) in Saugus, Thoreau's cabin site at Walden Pond and Thomas Jefferson's birthplace in Charlottesville, Virginia.

This down-to-earth historian enlivens his slide presentation with both drama and humor.

The meeting is open to all Society members and their friends. It is an opportunity to meet John P. Brucksch the Society's new curator.

To Stress Need For Unity

The "critical need for unity among municipal officials" as they take a stand against increasing state-mandated costs, will be the theme of the 14th Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns (MLCT) president of the organization Richard Leary of Brookline announced this week.

For the first time in MLCT's history, members of five other municipal organizations will hold their regular meetings in conjunction with the League's annual meeting at the Sheraton Inn and Conference Center in Foxborough.

Four municipal groups (the Massachusetts Mayors' Association, Municipal Management Association, Municipal Personnel Association and Association of Town Finance Committees) have joined the league in sponsoring the meeting, and a special session will be held for selectmen attending the MLCT annual meeting.

"From the opening gavel, the cooperation of the major municipal groups will be stressed," Leary stated. Among the issues under discussion at the meeting will be a joint legislative package to be sponsored by the organizations in the 1977 legislative session. This includes efforts to ensure that there is no further diversion of lottery monies away from the local aid accounts, changes in the compulsory and binding arbitration laws, and attempts to prevent the passage of further state-mandated programs which impose costs on cities and towns.

Metrics Program At Essex Tech

Get the centimeter bug! It's time to shoo the inch-worm out and invite the centimeter to stay. The United States did just that by passing Metric Conversion Act of 1975 last December. America is taking this giant step because the metric system is easier to use as it is based on the number 10.

"Taking the Fear Out of Metrics" is your invitation to learn about the important change our country is making in weights and measures. This information clinic explains the what, the why, and the how-to of metrics and will be a "hand-on" program involving you in the usage of metric units. Tips on how to recycle weighing and measuring items you already own to metric units will be shared.

Carol Corso, Cooperative Extension Home Economist, will present the two hour program Thursday, Oct. 28 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute. The program is free and open to the public without regard to race, color or national origin. To register contact Mrs. Betty Creedon at the Institute.

The country with the greatest length of inland waterways is Finland, with a total length of navigable lakes and rivers of about 31,000 miles.

ONCE AGAIN IT'S TIME TO SAY "HELLO DOLLY!"

Announcing Andover Bank's 1976 Dress-A-Doll Contest

Help us raise more than mere pin money for a wonderful cause. Just by entering our famous Dress-A-Doll Contest.

Right now we have over 150 beautiful 16 inch dolls at our three Andover Bank offices. And they're free. So just pick yours up, register for the contest and create an exciting costume for your doll. You can knit it, crochet it, sew it, do what you will. And bring her back beautifully dolled up by November 15th. That's when our dolls go on display and are judged by our experts.

We have a new category this year — Free Style. So let your imagination go. Or enter our other categories: Knit and Crochet, Fancy Dress (for party or evening wear) and Youngsters Under 15. Winners in each category will receive cash prizes and there'll be a grand prize for the top doll of all in each office.

Once the contest is over, your doll will be entered in our big auction where every penny raised goes to children's charities. One of the nicest ways we know to say "Merry Christmas to all."

The Addison Gallery opened a major photography exhibition that will occupy the entire first floor of the museum, recently: Three Views of the North American Landscape: Bruce Davidson: Photographs, 1958-1976; Jerry N. Uelsmann: Recent photographs; National Aeronautics and Space Administration: Photographs from Apollo, E.R.T.S., Landsat and Skylab missions.

The exhibition grew out of a desire to present several impressions of the North American scene in its Bicentennial year. Three distinct points of view are represented: the direct social documentary vision of Bruce Davidson, the experimental and psychologically provocative work of Jerry Uelsmann, and the physically abstract imagery of NASA photographs. As separate visions they are distinct and yet related; overlapping at points of motivation, observation and interpretation.

Born outside of Chicago in 1933, Bruce Davidson began photographing in his early teens. He attended the Rochester Institute and Yale University, worked as a LIFE photographer and joined Magnum Photos in 1958. During the sixties, Davidson photographed the Civil Rights movement and produced several documentary exhibitions, most notably East 100th Street, a two year study of one block in New York City, published in 1970 by The Harvard University Press. Since then, Davidson has been working in film, Isaac Singer's Nightmare and Mrs. Pupko's Beard, won first prize in fiction at the American Film Festival in New York in 1974. A present he is in the process of raising money for a feature film called, Enemies, A Love Story, an Isaac Singer novel he helped adapt for the screen, as well as putting together a collection of past still photographs for a book.

He writes, "My view of the American landscape is that of a person in search of himself and the humanity that surrounds him."

Jerry Uelsmann was born in Detroit, Michigan in 1934. He attended the Rochester Institute of Technology and received his M.F.A. from Indiana University; in 1960, he joined the faculty of the Department of Art at the University of Florida. His work has been widely exhibited throughout the United States and abroad. Notable among his one-man shows have been exhibits at the Museum of Modern Art, the Chicago Art Institute and the Philadelphia Museum of Art. Aperture published a monograph of his work in 1970, and his second book, Silver Meditations, was published in 1975.

Uelsmann comments, "I'm interested in exploring the idea of change. Photographs appear to be believable (and yet) they can present other possibilities or other realities... The true magician can explain his trick, but the magic is still there — I can explain relevant technical aspects of what I'm doing, but the mystery remains."

Calories Cut

One of the great misconceptions about pork is its calorie content, since past pork acquired a reputation as a "fatty" meat. research shows that meat pork are just as low in similar cuts of beef. Pork cuts on the market contain a larger proportion of lean meat than in form. The cuts contribute fewer calories, which pleases special diets.

Calories Cut

One of the greatest misconceptions about pork concerns calorie content, since from the past pork acquired a reputation as a "fatty" meat. Actually research shows that many cuts of pork are just as low in fat as similar cuts of beef or lamb. Pork cuts on the market today contain a larger proportion of lean meat than in former years. The cuts contribute fewer calories, which pleases those on special diets.

Anniversary Service At South

In observance of the 265th Anniversary of South Church in Andover, a Worship Service typical of Colonial times has been planned and will include the Fife and Drum Unit from the 5th Massachusetts Regiment of the Continental Line, an authentically recreated continental army unit that actually existed from 1776-1783. This recreated army unit is dedicated to an authentic portrayal of the life of a Continental Army soldier and its musical contingent is the most historically accurate in New England both in dress and musical program. The Fife and Drum Unit will sound the Call to Worship at the Morning Service following a concert in front of the Church.

"Percenter Eames" will be presented to "line out" the hymns and the South Church Sanctuary Choir will present Billing's "Hopkington" with Sue Mesler on piccolo and David Latorre on drums while the Handbell Choir will sound "St. Columbia" as a representation of 19th century music of the church.

John Stephens, an operatic bass-baritone, who has performed with the Metropolitan Opera Co. as well as many other opera companies throughout the United States and Europe, will participate in the service. His presence has been arranged through the auspices of Phillips Academy where he is currently in residence as an Affiliate Artist.

Following the Worship Service, members of the congregation will enjoy a historical exhibit in the South Vestry of the church where many artifacts and pictures of the history of South Church will be on display. A turkey dinner and birthday celebration will be held in Fellowship Hall, to be followed by a brief program, "Kaleidoscopic Events in South Church," written and arranged by Mrs. Betty McKissack.

debate is open to the public without charge.

Saturday evening, Oct. 16, the church celebrates in food and fun with a special candlelight dinner in the Sanctuary followed by an evening of music by the Dixieland Group of the New England Conservatory, the public is invited, and tickets are available from the church office in advance.

Sunday's 10:30 a.m. service completes the weekend with a special service of sharing about Unitarian-Universalism by our Religious Education Dept. and a presentation of the Play - "If you were arrested for being a Unitarian Universalist, would there be enough evidence to convict you?" This last day of Succot which is called Shemini Atzeret, the Eight Day of Assembly - is combined with the observance of Simhat Torah, the Rejoicing of the Torah. On this day the annual cycle of the reading of the Torah is completed and immediately following the reading of the last verses of the Book of Deuteronomy there is a return to the opening words of the Book of Genesis and the cycle of reading is begun again. Because of this tradition which reminds Jewish people throughout the world that the study of Torah is a continuing cycle, the ceremony of consecration has become part of the Festival Day. Those Jewish people following either the liberal tradition or the custom of the State of Israel will be observing Simhat Torah and Shemini Atzeret beginning with Friday night, October 15. This day in addition will also include Yizkor Memorial Services. Sabbath and Festival Services will also be Saturday morning, Oct. 16 at 10:30 a.m. in the Sanctuary of the Temple. This family service which will also include Yizkor will be conducted by Rabbi Harry A. Roth and Cantor Irving Shuman. More traditionally minded Jews will observe the last day of the Festival on Sunday, Oct. 17.

AFS Students Report

By Walter Hunt

Much ado was made recently in the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune, about the High School being a so-called "cultural wasteland".

This remark and argument thereunto, was made by School Committeeman Frank Griggs. His statement indicated that the curriculum and supplemental activities were insignificant outside of the field of athletics. There is, however, at least one program that is an effective counter-argument to this thesis: the efforts of the American Field Service, an international student exchange program that sends Andover students (usually one or two) abroad, and provides for an equal number of foreign students to come to Andover.

Recently, this reporter obtained an interview with the two students that spend this past summer abroad through AFS — Robyn Marciano and Diane Syiek, both seniors. Each of them had a story to tell, to wit:

Robyn Marciano went to Finland — more specifically, a location known as Laitila, population of about 6,000. She was with a typical AFS family of young parents and three young children, the oldest of which was six. Her "father" (the orientation of the program is toward adoption of the host family as one's true family) spoke English, and tried to aid her in learning Finnish, which by her own admission, is one of the more difficult of languages; yet she developed a vocabulary and spoke with a dearth of grammar, using hand signals and non-verbal expressions, cultivating what was termed "telegram Finnish." The language barrier, she believes, is one of the more difficult barriers to hurdle — misunderstanding, and "always doing everything wrong", it was "constantly important... to renew my self-confidence."

"The Finns are a very unique group of people." Finland, itself did not truly exist as an entity until 1919, yet the Finns have been under the dominion of the Swedes and the Russians for several centuries, and have been traded back and forth more frequently than Baltic Avenue in an average Monopoly game. As a result, they have developed a unique culture and language, apart from, though influenced by, both the Slavic and Germanic traditions of the two bordering nations.

Robyn emphasized that this, and the hardships of an extremely unfriendly nature in winter, has created a sort of exterior shell that makes the Finns a reserved people, though this is only superficial. The distinction between "acquaintance" and "friend" is very clearly defined, yet the "friends" (her family and relatives among them) were very close, though the friendship was quite brief, not much over two months, a fraction of a lifetime during which one person and another group with different traditions, a different language, and a country roughly the size of New Mexico overlap — after the United States, it seemed everything had been diminished. The largest city in Finland has fewer people in it than Boston — in fact, the entire population of Finland is just half of New York's.

Despite this, cultural exchange was a success: the one who most benefitted by the program was Robyn Marciano, who called it "definitely the best experience of my life."

Diane Syiek went to Argentina, a city named Formosa, not far from the famed Gran Chaco. That city is at approximately the same latitude as Palm Beach, Florida — but on the opposite side of the equator, and it was winter in that hemisphere, affording Diane the opportunity to attend school there, and further affording her to make a comparison between theirs and ours.

School is between 8 and noon, with classes in a rigid curriculum. The choice is between schools, instead: vocational, commercial (business) and national. She attended the third, the academic institution. After a few weeks she began to understand most of what was said, although the difficulty was with the rapidity with which the language of Spanish was spoken rather than the language itself.

The Argentinians, by Diane's description, seem at a very counterpoint to the Finns. She found it hard to accustom herself to the custom, for instance, of the traditional greeting — kissing — by both men and women; of the afternoon nap — "siesta" (which does exist outside the brittle unreality of "B" cowboy movies) the main meal being at noon and a smaller one, breakfast in the morning and its equivalent at 10 p.m.

Perhaps among the most important differences between living in this country and in Argentina was the fact that Argentina was, and is, in a state of political and social turmoil, and under the administration of a military regime. How did this affect the cultural experience?

Very little, it seems. Although she was required to carry her passport everywhere with her, and although a curfew was imposed, she was little bothered by the idea that there was less in the way of civil liberties than that to which she had become accustomed.

The AFS idea is that an experience of this kind, not the garden-grown variety of penpal, or travelogue, brings an individual closer to his/her home, his/her country and ultimately, his/her world. AFS came about first as an ambulance service in France in the first World War, and continued as such in WWII, sponsoring a "fellowships for French Universities" program in the interim. In 1947 it was reorganized into what it is today. Andover High School has long supported the program; every year, at Commencement, new flags are added to the already bulging flagstand; for each foreign student that attends adds his or her banner to it. This program has gone on for many years, unhaltingly. It has not died of want, or because of apathy, or indifference. It is a national organization, it achieves positive good, and it betters those who participate in it.

The Quorum Issue

Before relegating the October town meeting effort to the files, maybe it's time to consider this whole issue of the numbers game and establishment of a quorum.

The matters facing the town meeting session a week ago Monday night were sufficiently important to the town's welfare and obligations, to have commanded the attention of the 350 voters needed.

But, by the hundreds, Andover's citizenry remained home, principally, we would judge, because the controversial Historic District issue was not on the agenda.

But those who were in attendance, were aware of what was to be acted upon -- payment of bills and approval of the application for federal funding for a major sewer project.

Why then were these close to 200 voters deprived of giving their voice, as interested citizens, just because a bylaw says there has to be 350 present?

The quorum item was placed in the town's bylaws at a time when municipal employees could pack a special town meeting for specific purposes.

There have been efforts recently to establish a quorum representing a percentage of the town's registered voters. The effort failed twice.

Why not consider, then, reverting back to the days when no specific number of voters was required?

After all, recent history has shown that when a major issue is on the agenda, the voters will turn out. For any town meeting, there will be a representative turnout, if short of the 350 count.

Town meeting is legislative body.

As such, we would suggest a comparable examination of the Halls of Congress, or the legislative bodies in our own state house in Boston and witness of the passage of legislation with less than a quorum in attendance, on items of less than major consequence.

Why not, then apply the same measure to such issues as come before our own house, and allow the town to move forward, based on the representative interest shown by those who take the time to show up?

It might just be a good idea to examine that quorum issue, if Andover is to continue to be governed by the town meeting method.

The Houses En Route

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

Never have so few houses caused such a furor in their movement.

Two houses which have been inching their way along River Road since last Thursday, were expected to arrive at their destination, 390 River Road by late Wednesday.

Another house and barn, scheduled to be moved to Lawrence, over River road in the other direction, is still in limbo, after a hearing before the selectmen Tuesday night.

About ten years ago, before the bulldozers and earthmovers swathed a path for Route 495 in Andover and before that Route 93, several houses were uprooted and moved to new foundations, with little difficulty and even less opposition from abutters.

Not too many years ago, two houses parted the Central Business District en route from Shawsheen to South Main street.

And, within the past year or so, another large house made the trip up North Main street hill and negotiated the difficult turn down High street, virtually free of discussion, or problems.

But the houses in West Andover have been hassled about for the past several weeks, due to tree surgery along the path, and possibly some other underlying reasoning.

For John Warlick, the Salem, N. H. man who purchased the houses with the stipulation they be moved, it has been a difficult time, but he says he would do it again, if the opportunity presented itself.

Warlick on hand Tuesday night at the hearing on the remaining house and barn, when asked by the TOWNSMAN if the problems were worth the effort, responded, "I think so — I'll know better tomorrow (Wednesday) when the building hopefully will be at their destination."

"The buildings were there and they were going to be moved. It just seemed like a good idea at the time. I would plan the moves a little better next time," Warlick said.

He said he had not anticipated the opposition which was produced by the projected movement of the houses, with the ones proceeding toward Tewksbury engendering the most vocal objections at two public hearings before the selectmen.

Equipment difficulties further hampered the move over the two and one-half mile stretch of River Road. One of the truck beds on which the lead house was riding suffered flat tires which delayed the operation along the route the first day, last Thursday.

The result was pulling off on an island at Chandler and River Roads for the holiday week.

The move began again on Tuesday and reached a point where a new housing development is underway and provided adequate room for overnight storage of the homes-in-transit.

"We'll get there," Warlick noted as he looked forward to Wednesday's activities with the summation, "This has been an experience."

The remaining house and barn on Laurel Lane faces more difficult problems along its prospective route to Lawrence.

Slated to move to Bowdoin street, via River Road and Webster street in Andover, the buildings must get by an old and stately oak tree and an elm.

Getting From Here To There

River Road house moving in steps, clockwise from upper left, utility man snaps a wire to allow passage; workmen follow "the little house to the prairie"; off the lot onto the road; a couple of houses by the side of the road for the holiday weekend; a tight squeeze through the trees; John Warlick, second left, owner, looks ahead a long way to the new foundations.

Smoking dominated a good many years of my life. I smoked 1 1/2 packs a day for 28 years and was sure I could never quit. At the outset I was Smokers biggest critic. I am still amazed at how easy it was. Now 15 months later I am still a non-smoker and a grateful graduate. As a professional nurse and health educator of the public, I can now hold my head up and not feel embarrassed by my tobacco habit. It worked for me!

U.S.-Mexico Clash Over "Illegals"

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- The United States had a secret spat with Mexico earlier this year over illegal aliens. Here are the backstage details.

There are between six and eight million illegal aliens in this country today. The Immigration Service calls them "illegals."

About 60 per cent of them came from Mexico. They came here, as our own forefathers did, in search of a better life. But unfortunately, their presence has stirred up resentment. They are willing to work for low wages. Therefore, they have taken jobs from U.S. citizens.

In the past, the Immigration Service rounded up these illegal aliens and simply dumped them on the Mexican border. But this year, immigration officials decided to try a more humane experiment. They also reasoned that the illegals would be less likely to return to the United States if they were repatriated close to their homes.

So the Immigration Service hired a small charter airline company to fly the illegals back into the interior of Mexico, rather than releasing them at the border.

This upset the Mexican government, which had not been notified. So Mexican officials, understandably, refused to cooperate. The State Department sent trouble-shooting diplomats to smooth things over. They reached a new agreement after two months of delicate negotiations.

Mexican illegals are now being shipped into the interior on regularly scheduled flights, instead of charter planes. Each illegal is also interviewed by a Mexican consul before he is accepted back into Mexico.

Since July, about 7,500 Mexican illegals have been repatriated.

NOBLE STROM: It is our peculiar function to cover the shady side of Washington. We expose the villains in the drama of government -- the self-seekers who put their personal interests ahead of the public welfare.

Yet the public should be reminded occasionally that there are more decent, honest, hard-working officials in Washington than there are scoundrels. Nor is it always easy to separate the wheat from the chaff. The sellout in government one day may be the holdout the next. For even the worst rascals in Washington have their moments of righteousness.

We've often had the occasion, for example, to criticize old Strom Thurmond. He's the Republican senator from South Carolina, an unreconstructed son of the Confederacy. He was one of the last to accept the idea of civil rights. He still seems to live in an antebellum world of mint juleps and magnolia blossoms.

But there's another side to Strom Thurmond. A couple of weeks ago, he received a touching letter from a Columbia, S.C., man named Richard Davis. Davis reported that his 84-year-old mother appeared to be dying and wanted only one last thing from this world. She wanted to be buried next to her husband.

But the military bureaucracy, it turned out, intended to keep the couple apart, even in death. The husband had been buried years ago in a part of South Carolina which is now Fort Jackson. Military regulations prevented the widow from being buried in the same plot.

Thurmond was swamped with work in the closing days of Congress. Yet he dropped what the world might have considered to be more important work. He moved heaven and red tape to help the elderly Mrs. Davis before she died. Congress has seldom acted so swiftly. Thurmond got a law passed to let the widow Davis lie beside her husband.

There's still a happier ending to the story. After the law was passed, Mrs. Davis began to recuperate. She is still very much alive.

Meanwhile, old Strom, without ever expecting a word of praise, least of all from us, was so moved by her situation that he drafted another bill. This would prevent such cruelty from ever happening again to the hundreds of other elderly Americans who also have loved ones buried on what is now military land.

CHILE PLOT?: Orlando Letelier, the former Chilean ambassador who recently died in a bomb blast on Washington's embassy row, had been meeting secretly with representatives of Chile's Christian Democratic Party. They were discussing plans to form a coalition movement to oppose the Chilean dictatorship.

At first, the military junta merely outlawed the Communists and the Socialists. They gave lip service to Chile's traditional democracy. But we have spoken with Chilean sources, whose reliability cannot be questioned. They report that the military dictatorship has now set out to destroy the moderate Christian Democratic Party.

They ordered their secret police, the dreaded DINA, to break up the coalition movement. Orlando Letelier was the first of the coalition leaders to die. Our sources say the lives of the others are also in danger.

And where does the United States stand? It is subsidizing the dictatorship.

FORD'S MAIL: The Republicans put the Postal Service on a business basis in 1971. They hired businessmen to manage the Postal Service. They promised it would bring efficiency to the mails.

Mail delivery is now so inefficient that the Republicans themselves have turned to private industry to deliver their campaign mail. President Ford has been using the United Parcel Service, a private company, to deliver his campaign mailings.

The President's campaign material was held up by a strike at United Parcel. Tons of material are stacked up in the backrooms of Ford headquarters.

Yet the Republicans still wouldn't rely on the Postal Service to deliver the campaign mailings. When United Parcel was struck, they arranged to move most of it by bus.

Raytheon Acquires Oregon Firm

The Raytheon Company has acquired El-Jay, Inc. of Eugene, Oregon, a manufacturer of cone crusher machinery and other rock-processing equipment.

The acquisition was made for $7.5 million in cash from Chicago Pneumatic Tool company of which El-Jay has been an operating subsidiary. Earlier, the business had been privately owned since its founding in 1947.

El-Jay's line of stationary and portable con-type crushing machinery complements the jaw, roll, impact, and hammer-mill type crusher equipment of Iowa Manufacturing Company, a Raytheon subsidiary since 1972. In combination, the Iowa and El-Jay lines of rock crushing and screening equipment will be one of the most comprehensive in the industry.

El-Jay has an annual sales volume approaching $10 million and sells its products through distributors both in the United States and Canada and in other countries. It will continue to operate under its present name in its present location as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Iowa Manufacturing Company, whose product lines also include asphalt mixing plants and asphalt paving equipment, all marketed under the "Cedarapids" trade name.

El-Jay's patented cone crusher equipment is used extensively in the construction industry. It is also used in mining operations. In addition to cone crushers, El-Jay manufactures and markets other rock processing equipment such as inclined and horizontal sizing screens. The firm employs approximately 180 people and occupies 90,000 square feet of owned manufacturing and office facilities in Eugene, Ore.

Religious Work At Museum

Hampton never married and had few friends. He believed that God had come to him in a vision early in his life and continued to appear to him until his death. Inspired by these visitations, he dedicated himself to building The Throne of the Third Heaven.

About 1950 Hampton rented a poorly lit garage in a rundown neighborhood a few blocks from his boarding house. He believed that God came every night to the unheated garage to guide him as he made his glittering, intricate objects.

Of the 180 pieces incorporated in the work, one is marked "Made in Guam, April 14, 1945," but the exact date of his work has not been established. It is known that he rented the garage from 1950 to 1964. During these years he gathered used furniture, cardboard, paper, plastic, aluminum and gold foil, and light bulbs. He fashioned objects that suggest traditional church appointments — a throne chair, pulpits, standard, and offertory tables — while the purpose of other pieces is not known.

In spite of his lack of training, Hampton was guided by an innate sense of design and symmetry. Each unit is one of a pair; each has an assigned place on either side of the central throne chair. While his layout of The Throne is orderly, Hampton left no explanation of its symbolism. He apparently derived many of his ideas from the Book of Revelation.

Labels on the objects point to the basic scheme: to the left of the throne chair, objects refer to the New Testament, Jesus Christ, and Grace; to the right, the system is based on the Old Testament, Moses, and Law. Tags attached to many objects record the dates and descriptions of Hampton's specific visions.

The Throne of the Third Heaven measures 10½ feet by 26 feet, 11 inches by 14 feet. It is in the permanent collection of the National Collection of Fine Arts, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C.

An understanding of God, Truth, freed an Indiana woman from an infected lung, arthritis, and confinement to a wheelchair. It changed her whole life.

But this is not why she came to Christian Science in the first place. It was her hunger for an understanding of God.

If you are searching for the joyous freedom that comes from knowing God's presence in your life, come to our service this Wednesday evening. You will hear people like yourself testify to the power of God, Truth, in their own experience.

By Rick Harrison

It's over.

The Andover High football team's brilliant streak straight regular season without a defeat was brought to a halt last Saturday afternoon, as Tewksbury parlayed a ball-hawking drive and a six-yard touchdown into a tense 7-0 win over Golden Warriors at the Center School field.

The last time AHS defeated in regular season was the opening game of the season, when Wilmington took back a great aerial show by Seero and Bob Farnham to register a 32-27 win.

Since that time Coach Collins' teams had piled up 1 record, winning three straight Merrimack Valley Conference titles and a pair of Eastern Division II Super Bowls along the way.

There were a few setbacks among them a 7-6 come-from-behind squeaker against Prep that Jeff Winters, Verrette and Pete Reilly out in the waning minutes. A triumph over tough Wilmington in the rain last year (courtesy a screen pass to John Fabian) and the memorable 6-6 state with Lawrence Central in a torrential downpour Thanksgiving (thanks to Alexander, Glenn Verrette, Mark Farnham in that order). Each time during the past seasons the Golden Warriors were able to come up with the play at the right time, always the rock-solid defense was there.

No one could fault the defense last Sunday, but for the offense lacked the explosiveness so characteristic of the "run-and-shoot" system. Tewksbury, putting relentless pressure on Andover quarterback Mitch Rousseau and quarterback Dan Wolfe forced no less than eight Golden Warriors' turnovers.

Rousseau and Welch were intercepted five times, Redmen recovered two fumbles but the real killer and eventual turning point was a slightly off-center snap that fouled up an attempt at the AHS 10 yard line with 1:30 left in the first half.

The Only Touchdown

Andover was stalled at its 23 with time clicking off in the first half. Bob Park dropped the punt, but had trouble handling the snap from center.

By the time he found the hole the Tewksbury defense was on top of him, and Park was at the 10 yard line by corner Bart Weitz.

Jay Petros, Tewksbury's rusher who had gained 398 yards in the first three games but effectively throttled by Andover hit the line for two yards to eight.

Rick Billings, whose basic is as a blocking back, added more yards to the six.

Redman junior quarterback Brian Wolfe, who passed well afternooon, then rolled right fired a six-yard scoring strike. Tim Weisensee who cradled the ball in the right corner of the zone.

Al Santos drilled the corner kick through the uprights and with 1:02 left in the half defeated Tewksbury led 7-0.

It was slightly alarming to partisans, unaccustomed to seeing their team on the short end of the score, but with 20 minutes left it seemed highly likely that high-scoring Andover would erupt at some point in the second half.

Frustration

The frustration had begun early for the Golden Warriors.

It's over. The Andover High football team's brilliant streak of 39 straight regular season games without a defeat was finally brought to a halt last Sunday afternoon, as Tewksbury parlayed a ball-hawking defense and a six-yard touchdown pass into a tense 7-0 win over the Golden Warriors at the ragged Center School field.

The last time AHS tasted defeat in regular season play was the opening game of the 1972 season, when Wilmington fought back a great aerial show by Scott Seero and Bob Farnham to register a 32-27 win.

Since that time Coach Dick Collins' teams had piled up a 38-0-1 record, winning three straight Merrimack Valley Conference titles and a pair of Eastern Mass. Division II Super Bowls along the way.

There were a few scares, among them a 7-6 come-from-behind squeaker against Austin Prep that Jeff Winters, Glenn Verrette and Pete Reilly pulled out in the waning minutes... a 6-0 triumph over tough Wilmington in the rain last year (courtesy of a screen pass to John Fabiani)... and the memorable 6-6 standoff with Lawrence Central in a torrential downpour last Thanksgiving (thanks to Bill Alexander, Glenn Verrette and Mark Farnham in that one).

Each time during the past four seasons the Golden Warriors were able to come up with the big play at the right time, and always the rock-solid defense was there.

No one could fault the AHS defense last Sunday, but for once the offense lacked that explosiveness so characteristic of the "run-and-shoot" system.

Tewksbury, putting relentless pressure on Andover quarterback Mitch Rousseau and option-throwing halfback Dan Welch, forced no less than eight Golden Warriors' turnovers.

Rousseau and Welch were intercepted five times, the Redmen recovered two fumbles, but the real killer and eventual turning point was a slightly high center snap that fouled up a punt attempt at the AHS 10 yard line with 1:30 left in the first half.

The Only Touchdown

Andover was stalled at its own 23 with time clicking off in the first half. Bob Park dropped back to punt, but had trouble handling the snap from center.

By the time he found the handle the Tewksbury defense was on top of him, and Park was nailed at the 10 yard line by cornerback Bart Weitz.

Jay Petros, Tewksbury's star rusher who had gained 398 yards in the first three games but was effectively throttled by Andover, hit the line for two yards to the eight.

Rick Billings, whose basic duty is as a blocking back, added two more yards to the six.

Redman junior quarterback Brian Wolfe, who passed well all afternoon, then rolled right and fired a six-yard scoring strike to Tim Weisensee who cradled the ball in the right corner of the end-zone.

Al Santos drilled the conversion kick through the uprights, and with 1:02 left in the half undefeated Tewksbury led 7-0.

It was slightly alarming to AHS partisans, unaccustomed to seeing their team on the short end of the score, but with 20 minutes of football left it seemed highly unlikely that high-scoring Andover would not erupt at some point in the second half.

Frustration

The frustration had begun early for the Golden Warriors.

On their first possession, following a fine 58 yard punt by Tewksbury's Mark Brown, the Warriors started to move as Rousseau hit Lou Pizarro with an 11-yard look-in pass.

Jerry Stabile, who was to finish the game with 91 yards rushing in 16 carries, 81 yards through the air on four receptions, and 12 tackles at his outside linebacker post, bulled for six yards.

Welch bucked for five yards and Pizarro scooted for another four.

However, an errant pitchout from Rousseau to Stabile was covered by Charlie Panzino at the Andover 39.

Wolfe immediately gunned an 11 yard strike to Gene Roux. Petros picked up five yards to the 23, but a clipping penalty on the play brought the ball back to the 38. Four plays later the Redman bid fizzled at the AHS 29.

The Warriors drove right back to the Tewksbury 23, highlighted by Rousseau aeriels to Rick Collins (10 yards) and Stabile (17 yards).

Stabile powered 12 yards with a pitch right, and it appeared as though Andover was unstoppable.

Stabile then motored inside the Redman 10, but an untimely holding penalty negated the gain and forced a third-and-16 situation at the Tewksbury 34.

Rousseau had his next pass picked off by Bart Weitz at the 31.

Tewksbury Threatens

Four plays later, following a 17-yard aerial from Wolfe to Weisensee, Petros fumbled and the ever-present Stabile recovered at the AHS 43.

Stabile cruised 10 yards into Redmen country, but two plays later a Rousseau pass intended for Paul Derby was intercepted by Larry Weitz at the Tewksbury 38.

The Redmen launched a time-consuming, 13-play drive down to the Andover 14 yard line. The big play was a 17 yard pass from Wolfe to Petros.

The march sputtered at the 14, however, as Bob Murray and Greg Gardner nailed Roux behind the line of scrimmage, and it died completely when a fourth down pass to Petros was dropped at the goalline.

It was just after this that the punt that never came off occurred, making it 7-0.

Andover Rebounds

Collins' crew made another bid to collect the tying touchdown during the final minute of the opening half.

Stabile clicked off nine yards on the ground, and then snagged a screen pass from Rousseau for 18 more to the Redman 34.

Welch unloaded a bomb for Rick Collins at the goalline, but Larry Weitz broke up the pass play and the Warriors were hit with a holding penalty.

A bobbled center snap lost two yards, and then Mark Petros snuffed out an end around to nail sophomore Paul Farnham for a 12 yard loss.

Faced with a third and 39 situation, Andover went for the long bomb again. But Welch's heave was intercepted by Mark Brown, who returned the ball 20 yards to the Tewksbury 45 as the half ended.

Golden Opportunity

Early in the third stanza Andover squandered an excellent scoring chance.

Two plays later Andover returned the "favor", however, as Bill Ashe gobbled up a loose ball at the Redman 13 yard line.

Tewksbury moved to the Warriors' 34 on its next series, thanks primarily to a 37-yard pass from Wolfe to Weisensee.

The Andover defense blunted the drive, and following a punt Pizarro and Stabile reeled off consecutive 17 yard runs to advance the ball to the Tewksbury 44.

Rousseau was sacked for a 15 yard loss on the next play by Mike Seymour and Joe Gorfinkle, as the frustrations mounted.

More Interceptions

Early in the fourth quarter Stabile cruised 20 yards on two successive carries, putting the ball at the Redman 38, but a Rousseau pass meant for Collins was swiped by Mike Seymour at the Tewksbury 35.

Dan Hayes turned the tables three plays later, intercepting Wolfe at midfield.

With 4:43 showing on the clock Stabile rambled 16 yards on a draw play, then followed with a 17 yard pass reception at the Tewksbury 19.

But Bill Ashe caught Stabile for a three yard loss on the next formation, and a costly holding penalty pushed the ball back to the 37.

Two more aeriels fell incomplete, and with exactly 3:00 to play Rousseau was sacked for an 11 yard loss by Petros and Ashe on fourth down.

The Redmen, sticking to the ground, picked up one first down and ran off seven plays before Mark Brown was forced to punt with 0:45 seconds left.

Rick Collins fielded the kick and wisely ran out of bounds at the AHS 19 to stop the clock.

Welch uncorked a long pass to Paul Farnham that Larry Weitz broke up, and with 33 seconds to go a Rousseau aerial to Collins fell incomplete near midfield.

Welch then found Jerry Stabile for a 29 yard pass-and-run play, and Rousseau drilled an 11 yard completion to Collins at the Tewksbury 41 with nine seconds left.

The final play was a long pass from Rousseau to Farnham, but the ball skipped through the leaping sophomore's hands and was intercepted by Larry Weitz as time ran out.

It marked the first time since the 1971 season that Andover had been shut out.

Aylward Comments

Tewksbury Coach Bob Aylward, his team now 4-0 and tied for the MVC lead with Wilmington and Dracut, had trouble containing his joy as he watched his players and Tewksbury fans mobbing one another at midfield.

"We beat a fantastic football team today," began the Tewksbury skipper.

"We have been studying their defense for the past three years, looking for some kind of weakness. The past two years Andover didn't just beat us, they embarrassed us.

"Two seasons back we were also 3-0 after beating Lawrence the week before we played Andover. We called a practice the Sunday after the Lawrence game and re-structured our entire defense," recalled Sylward.

"The following Saturday Jeff Winters played what I consider the best all-around game that one single kid has ever played against us, and we were defeated 38-9.

"Last year we held special practices before the Andover game, again. We switched to five deep backs in an attempt to stop their passing game, and they killed us with their inside running game.

"This year we decided to just have our regular practice week and make no big changes. Our defense handled the run and shoot as well as anyone ever has. They ran some options at us that we had trouble stopping, but our defense has been coming up with the 'money' play all season (12 interceptions, eight fumble recoveries, seven batted passes and 25 sacks)," noted Aylward.

"I think defensively we threw some things at them that Andover hasn't seen before, but I'm not going to give away any secrets. On offense I believe the openness of our pass patterns bothered them a little, and we also had pretty good ball control.

"I can't say enough about their kid Stabile. In addition to his offense (172 yards), he was primarily responsible for stopping Petros. Every time we went to his side he made the tackle, without fail, and once he did it even after we had blocked him out and he was lying flat on his back. Somehow the kid reached up and made the stop," related Aylward.

Statistics

Andover had the better of the game statistically, except for the final score.

The Warriors led in first downs, 15-9, yards rushing, 98-77, yards passing, 129-102, and total yardage, 227-179.

Rousseau and Welch hit on 9-of-20 passes, not counting the five completed to the wrong team.

In an oddity, both clubs ran off 55 scrimmage plays.

Following Stabile in the rushing department was Pizarro with 39 yards in seven carries.

Collins caught three passes for 34 yards, Pizarro one for 11, and Welch snagged one pass for three yards.

Rick Billings was the top runner for Tewksbury with 40 yards in 13 lugs. Petros was held to 18 yards net in 14 carries, while Gene Roux picked up 20 yards in nine totes.

Weisensee hurt Andover with five receptions covering 74 yards.

Standouts

Joining Stabile as defensive standouts were Welch, Mike Bernard, Bill Walsh, Tom Kenney, Bob Murray, Dan Hayes, Tom Coffey and Lou Pizarro.

In the offensive line the stalwarts included Gerry St. Onge, Mike Bernard, Tom Kenney, Bill Walsh and Dave Williams.

Former AHS players home from college and at the game included Glenn Verrette (Holy Cross), Pete Reilly (U. Rhode Island), Dan Billings (Ulowell) and John Fabiani (Plymouth State).

Andover, now 2-1 overall and not entirely out of the Super Bowl picture, will try to start another streak to equal or surpass its MVC record when powerful Wilmington invades Lovely Field this Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

The wildcats come to town with impressive credentials.

Always tough, Wilmington is currently 4-0 this season and 3-0 in the MVC. Victories have come over non-league Division I rival Stoneham (27-6), Lawrence (27-0), Chelmsford (35-0) and Austin Prep (42-0).

Coach Fred Bellissimo's crew thus has outscored three Conference opponents by a whopping 104-0 margin, but they have yet to face a really strong team.

The Wildcats' offense is strictly a three-man show.

Halfback Gordie Fitch has scored 60 points on nine TDs and three conversion rushes, and he has also piled up 594 yards rushing with four straight 100+ games.

Quarterback Jim Stewart has 41 points with five TDs, 11-of-15 conversion kicks, and he has rushed for 359 yards in just 29 carries for a classy 12.1 average gain.

Halfback Bob Sferrazza, a speed merchant whereas Fitch is a power runner, boasts 30 points and 433 yards rushing in 56 carries. A pass catching threat, he has run for three touchdowns and caught Stewart aerials for two others.

The Wilmington ground game has accounted for close to 1,500 yards rushing already, including one game of over 500 yards.

The defense is also working on three consecutive shutouts.

Small deposits of oil and grease dropped by millions of vehicles on the highway build up fast, says Triple-A. Rain and wet fog can cause these deposits to become extremely slick. That's just one more reason, the Auto Club says, for drivers to be extra alert in rainy weather.

All racers will compete against racers in their own class level and will be judged on the best time of three runs.

In addition to individual entries, one of the attractive features of the race is that a group of youngsters may form a racing team, building one car in a cooperative effort with each child racing the car for time individually.

Another unique feature of the event is the two-man race. Nowhere else in derby racing can this race be found other than in Andover.

This year, parents of derby racers will have their shot at 25 seconds of glory in the Parents Novelty Race. If you helped build your child's racer and the seat looks a little undersized, you've still got time to make that last minute adjustment.

Trophies will be awarded to first place finishers and ribbons and certificates will be awarded to other place finishers in the racing competitions. Ribbons will be awarded to the drivers of cars judged winners in the following non-racing categories: Most Attractive; Safest; Andy 500 "bomb".

Official rules for the race, registration forms and additional information may be obtained at any school office or at the Recreation/Community Schools Office at 36 Bartlet Street.

Rugby At Brooks Sunday

The Sorcerers Rugby Club will play its match against the Portland Rugby Club on Sunday, Oct. 17 at 1 p.m. at the Brooks School in North Andover.

The Sorcerers, known for their wide open style of play, features some of the finest rugby players in the United States.

Playing for the Sorcerers from the area will be Andover attorney Reginald Marden and Jay Saunders of Reading, both former all New England players.

The Sorcerers also feature players such as Geoff Ryding a former captain of London University now living in Manchester, Mass.; John Kirk a former Rugby League star in England, now of Beverly; Bill Foye who has played internationally representing the United States and Bill Mullin a collegiate All American.

The Sorcerers are presently 4-0 in the season having defeated Beacon Hill 26-4, Old Gold 20-8, Harvard Business School 50-0, and University of Massachusetts 32-10.

The public is invited to attend this Sunday game.

Colts Grab League Lead

By Rick Harrison

After just two weeks of action, the Central Colts have established themselves as the sole possessor of first place in the Andover Junior Football League.

The Colts displayed their superiority in convincing fashion, overpowering the Shawsheen Patriots 32-0 in the final game of a tripleheader last Sunday at the Playstead Field.

In the other two contests, the Ballardvale Browns whitewashed the West Andover Redskins, 12-0, while the Indian Ridge Vikings and Bancroft Dolphins battled to a scoreless 0-0 deadlock.

That leaves the mighty Colts alone at the top with a perfect 2-0 record.

The Vikings' defense held at 14-1, while the Patriots' offense had contention at 14-1.

The Colts' defense, incidentally, outscored the opposition 32-0.

Colts, 32-0

The Colts began their season with a note for the Colts, as they took the opening kickoff and then fumbled in the hands of Pat.

The Shawsheen squad was in a center snap on an attempted punt, but the Colts possession at the Patriots' 20 yard line.

Central moved for a first down at the 10, and then AJFL scoring leader Gary Milne broke straight in the middle for a touchdown. Steve Wennik boomed the ensuing kickoff down to the Pats' 15 yard line, and the shutout Central defense pushed Shawsheen back to the five to force another punting situation.

Another errant center snap went out of the endzone for a safety, boosting the Colts' lead to 8-0 early in the second quarter.

Late in the half Central marched to the Shawsheen 25, and Steve Wennik escaped on an apparent TD jaunt. But the score was nullified by a clipping penalty.

This only delayed the inevitable, however, as Green ran to the five and Gary Milne slanted over for his second touchdown of the game and third on the season.

The Colts walked off the field at halftime riding a 14-0 lead, as the final few plays of the second quarter featured a series of fumbles by both clubs.

The Central 'B' team wrapped up the offense with an awesome three touchdown performance in the third quarter.

The opening tally came on the heels of a Patriots' fumble, as Mike Lucey ran 15 yards and then rambled the final 12 yards to paydirt.

Steve Wennik continued his kicking show by drilling the next placement to the Shawsheen 10. Another fumble was pounced on at that spot by the Colts' 11-year-old John Best, and Mike Lucey ran for his second TD on the following play to make it 26-0.

The Patriots began to move after another strong kickoff by Wennik, but the drive was halted when Dave Marsden intercepted a pass and scampered 30 yards for his second touchdown in two games.

The scoreless fourth quarter saw more fumbles on both sides, and Shawsheen tried desperately but unsuccessfully to make a comeback by going to its passing game.

The Colts' defense for the Patriots' drive was led by Mike Jackson and Kevin Phinney, top squad was led by John LeGendre, Scott Heeseitine, Jeff Demers, Karl Holmes, Jim Hart and Scott.

The Colts' 'A' offense was sparked by Tim Derby, J. B. Fitzgerald and Kevin Phinney, while the 'B' offense was fired by John Best, Mike Lucey and Dave.

The 'A' defense featured excellent efforts from Tom Billings, Jeff Fleming and Bernie Kavanagh. The 'B' defense preserved the shut-out with strong efforts from Kane Grecoe, Tom Kinsky, Paul Marad and Sean Norris.

Browns, 12-0

The West Andover Redskins, still looking for their first TD, took the opening kickoff and drove to the Browns' 15 yard line before the Ballardvale defense blunted the scoring threat.

The key run to get the Skins down close was a 20 yard burst by Brett Pearson on a well-executed double reverse.

The Browns couldn't put their offense in gear, and on their next possession the Redskins marched down to the Ballardvale 10 where big defensive plays by middle guard Scott Lindstrom, Geoff Edmonds and Bob Foley once again halted West Andover short of paydirt.

Shortly thereafter 11-year-old Dave Factor of the Browns plowed into the center of the line, broke out of the pack and galloped 85 yards for a second period touchdown.

The Redskins took the kickoff and moved for a pair of first downs, but a fumble at this point was recovered by Mike Darwin of the Browns.

Robbie Slayton of West Andover returned the favor by covering a Ballardvale bobble as the half ended.

Leading 6-0, the Browns took the second half kickoff to the Skins 10, but a penalty and yet another fumble ended this threat. Several plays later Adam Romito of the Browns gobbled up a loose ball.

The Browns mounted one fruitless drive early in the fourth quarter, but with only two plays remaining in the game Dave Factor picked off a Jim Terrion pass and rumbled 40 yards for his second TD.

The conversion attempt, like every other one tried Sunday, failed.

Browns' offensive sparkplugs included quarterback Frank DePiano, Chris O'Reilly, Dave Parent, Dave Ouellette, Steve Eldred and 10-year-old Neil Robinson.

The Browns' defense was led by Joe Hunt and Dave Frocione. The Redskins' attack was guided by Jim Terrion, who quarterbacked both the A and B teams, Mark Jensen, Brett Pearson and Robbie Slayton.

In defense West Andover received fine performances from Robbie Harrison, 10-year-old Jimmy Griggs, Eric Wragg, Jim Kelleher, Roger Fitzgerald, Charlie Frazzette, Joe Buzzett, Andy McKissack, Barney Abouse, John Olesen and big Perry Flynn.

Vikes-Dolphins, 0-0

The Dolphins fumbled the opening kickoff and Jack Kramer of the Vikings scooped up the loose ball.

The Indian Ridge squad caught the same disease, however, and returned possession to the dolphins with a first play fumble.

The Dolphins drove for a pair of touchdowns before Tim Kramer made a fine defensive play to give the Vikings the ball.

A 15 yard sweep by Chris Coots advanced the Indian Ridge team to the Bancroft 15 yard line, where Joe Keefe made a fine touchdown-saving tackle.

The Dolphins' defense toughened and held, but the Vikes' proved just as stingy behind the inspired play of Tom Duncan.

A bad snap on a punt attempt enabled the Vikings to take control at the enemy 30 late in the half, but Indian Ridge ran out of plays before they could mount a serious threat.

The scoreless third quarter was highlighted by Scott Newman's superb play, as he halted a Vikings' sweep and threw the runner for an eight yard loss.

Neither team could threaten in the fourth period. A Chris Coots' punt pushed the Dolphins back to

Heading For Goal Line

Paul Reichert is off and running on a 46-yard romp as Andover East Junior High, seventh and eighth grade team defeated Tyngsboro this past week, by a score of 44-0.

JV Soccer Team Wins

By Ted Teichert

The Andover High School JV Soccer Team added another win to its record by beating St. John's Prep by a score of 5-1.

It started in the first quarter when Russ Serbagi kicked a corner kick to Scott Keller who headed the ball in for a goal. Two more Andover goals were scored by Tom Keefe and Keller. Ser-bagi brought the ball down the sidelines and crossed to Mike Silverman who layed it down for Keefe who booted it in. The third goal was scored by Scott Keller with the same combination: Serbagi from a corner kick to Keller and Keller putting a head on the ball to go in for the goal. These second and third goals were scored in the second quarter.

In the third quarter St. John's finally got on the board with a goal from Joe Romei with an assist from Peter White. Then, in the fourth quarter the Warriors struck again with two goals by Mike Silverman and Russ Serbagi. Silverman got a pass from John Kinsky for Andover for the fourth goal. The final goal by Russ Serbagi was gained when he kicked a direct boot from about 25 yards out to put it in for the goal.

Andover had 20 shots on goal while St. John's was able to get six. Serbagi had one goal and three assists for the day while Keller had two goals. Fullbacks Andy Powell, Dave Coppola and Mike Anderson played tremendous defense while goalies Geoff Buck and Dwain Dorsey were outstanding in their position.

The quote of the day came from coach Dave Stackhouse who said, "We just played great. We were running, talking it up and finishing up the plays. I was very happy about this game."

Serley, Farrell Get MVP Awards

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team recently held its annual "break-up dinner" at the Butcher Boy Restaurant in North Andover.

A number of awards were made to outstanding players for their performances during the 1976 season, during which Andover posted a 16-5 league record and 22-8-1 overall ledger.

Steve Serley and Dave Farrell were co-winners of the "Most Valuable Player" trophies, and Serley also received the high batting average award for his excellent .443 mark.

The "Most Improved Player" trophy went to Brian Kelly, while Dan Grams was given a special "Most Dedicated Player" award. Co-winners of the "Rookie of the Year" honor were Bob Patterson and Bob Heidt.

Dave Birnbach was presented a special "No Hit Certificate" award from National Babe Ruth headquarters in New Jersey. Dave fired the seventh no-hitter in the past six years by an Andover pitcher, turning the trick during a 16-1 romp over North Lawrence.

All five graduating 15 year old players were also awarded plaques for the fine career batting averages they compiled.

Dan Grams finished his three seasons with a .335 average, while Chuck Souter hit .333, Steve Serley .329, Dave Birnbach .291 and Dave Farrell .278.

In addition Chuck Souter, Dave Birnbach, Dave Farrell and Dan Grams were chosen as "Babe Ruth Baseball Athletes of the Year."

The local athletes whose names appear above have been selected to Babe Ruth Baseball's "Athletes of the Year" program for 1976, as announced by Richard W. Case, President of Babe Ruth International, and Rick Harrison, manager Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth.

Nominations for "Athletes of the Year" were made earlier this summer by Babe Ruth league managers and presidents from across the nation. They were invited to nominate candidates with the best records of local achievement on their teams or in their leagues.

Criteria by which these local baseball players were nominated include the athlete's ability, including statistics and overall performance, sportsmanship and personal leadership displayed during the current season. To be eligible for the program, a player must have been an active participant in an officially recognized Babe Ruth league during the 1976 season.

Sponsored by Babe Ruth International, "Athletes of the Year" is an annual honor roll paying tribute to the team players from the world's largest regulation baseball activity for young people. The purpose of the program, is to promote and encourage the playing of amateur Babe Ruth Baseball among young athletes between the ages of 13 and 18 by nationally recognizing each team's outstanding players of the current season.

The athletic achievements of each local honoree will be presented in the 1976 edition of Babe Ruth Baseball "Athletes of the Year" Annual to be published in December. This respected chronicle of the youth baseball season will be presented to the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y. for permanent display.

The National Advisory Board of the "Athletes of the Year" Program is composed of prominent baseball personalities including Mrs. Babe Ruth; Mrs. Marius Bonacci, wife of founder, Babe Ruth Baseball; Ford Frick, former baseball commissioner; Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, Baseball Hall of Fame member; Elston Howard, coach, New York Yankees; Danny Litwhiler, coach, Michigan State University; Mickey Lolich, New York Mets; Lawrence T. Moser, former Chairman of the Board and President of Babe Ruth Baseball; Brooks Robinson, Baltimore Orioles; Al Downing, pitcher, Los Angeles Dodgers, and Marty Springstead, American League umpire.

Youth Hoop League Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Youth Basketball League will begin its second season on Oct. 29. The town-wide group's purpose is "to provide a well-balanced, competitive brand of basketball to players age eight to fifteen." There will be three divisions:

Juniors (ages 8-9) will be an instructional division to teach and practice fundamental basketball skills, with little emphasis on formal competition.

Intermediates (ages 10-12) will have major and minor subdivisions, with players assigned by skill level.

Seniors (ages 13-15) will be an accelerated extension of the intermediate program.

To be eligible to participate, players must be residents of Andover or attend Andover schools and be at least eight, but not older than 15, as of January 1, 1977. Every player must also register at the West Junior High School cafeteria on Tuesday, Oct. 26 or Wednesday, Oct. 27, between 6 and 8:30 p.m. No registrations will be accepted at other times. A player who did not register last year should bring a birth certificate. There are no restrictions on who may register, however, gym space and the number of available coaches may limit the number of players. If this is necessary, a waiting list will be created for those who will play in other basketball programs and were not in the AYBL last season. If the player was on an AYBL team last season, there is no tryout required — they are on the same team.

Tryouts will be held for the following players only: those who were not on the AYBL team last season; those who played in the Intermediate Minor Division last season; and those eligible for a different division from last season (Juniors, who are now 10 years old and Intermediates now 13 years old).

These players must attend two tryout sessions for their age group. Players must wear tee-shirts, gym shorts, and sneakers. No player will be allowed to try out in street shoes or sneakers that have been worn to the gym because of the damage they do to gym floors. If there is a schedule conflict with either registration or tryout times, call Maureen Bardsley before Monday, Oct. 25. Tryout schedules are as follows:

Junior Division Players will meet Saturday, Nov. 6, from 2 to 3 p.m. at the East Junior High School gym.

Intermediate Division Players first tryout will be Saturday, Oct. 30, at the East Junior High School gym, with 10 year-olds meeting from 2 to 3 p.m.; 11 year-olds, 3 to 4 p.m.; and 12 year-olds, 4 to 5 p.m.

Intermediate Division Players second tryout will be Monday, Nov. 1, at West Junior High School: 10 year-olds, 6 to 7 p.m.; 11 year-olds, 7 to 8 p.m.; and 12 year-olds, 8 to 9 p.m.

Intermediate Division Players third tryout will be Sunday, Nov. 7, at East Junior High School: 10 year-olds, 2 to 3 p.m.; 11 year-olds, 3 to 4 p.m.; and 12 year-olds, 4 to 5 p.m.

Senior Division Players first tryout will be Sunday, Oct. 31, at East Junior High School: 13 year-olds, 2 to 3 p.m.; 14 year-olds and 15 year-olds, 3 to 4 p.m.

Senior Division Players second tryout will be Tuesday, Nov. 2, at West Junior High School: 13 year-olds, 6 to 7 p.m.; 14 year-olds and 15 year-olds, 7 to 8 p.m.

Senior Division Players third tryout will be Sunday, Nov. 7, at East Junior High School: 13 year-olds, 6 to 7 p.m.; 14 year-olds and 15 year-olds, 7 to 8 p.m.

Following the tryouts, a clinic will be scheduled. It will be supervised by high school basketball coach Wilbur Hixon and junior varsity coach William Vickers. There will also be a clinic for league coaches to promote new techniques.

The Andover Youth Basketball league will continue through March, 1977. Current plans include such activities as an awards banquet, one-on-one contests and an Andover Tournament. Any questions on the program may be directed to Frank Monette, Box 40, Beacon Street, or Neil Zimmerman, 13 Blood Road.

Pumpkin Sale At Doherty

A pumpkin sale, sponsored by Doherty's fifth grade class, will be held today (Thursday, Oct. 14) in front of the school. Pumpkins may be purchased during recess periods and after school until 5 p.m.

The pumpkin sale will help finance the class environmental education week at the Cape Cod National Seashore later this month.

In case of rain, the sale will be Oct. 15.

Warrior Booters Drop Pair

The Golden Warrior Soccer Team had a very rough week this past week playing against the one and two teams in the league. Both were home games with first place Billerica on Monday, and second place St. John's on Friday.

Andover gave Billerica a very tough battle as they outshot them 18 to 12. Unfortunately two of Billerica's shots lodged in the nets.

The defense for Billerica was perfect for the day blanking the Andover attack. This same defense has only given up two goals this season. The fullback line for Andover played very well. Bob Zwicker at left, Jim Ness at center, and George Donovan at right fullback were very solid all afternoon, and turned back many of Billerica's attempts. Dave Dauber played an excellent game in goal as the two Billerica shots that scored were fine shots. He also forced a penalty kick wide. Tony Camaratta and Eric Ketzler shared the duties at center half back and Rick Dow had a fine afternoon as he got free for five shots on Billerica's net.

St. John's is second in the league and they showed why on Friday as they capitalized on opportunities, and pressured Andover's defense into mistakes that were costly. St. John's came out strong in the first quarter and dominated the scoreless period with four shots to Andover's two. In the second period Andover outshot St. John's 4 to 1, but the visitors only shot went in. It was a very hard shot into the open corner of the net. Andover came back in the third quarter as Tri-Captain Mike Konjoian scored on an excellent dipping shot over the goalies outstretched arms.

Soccer Game Tonight

The Andover High soccer team will play under the lights tonight at Methuen. The field is located just below Nicholson stadium in Methuen and will have the Warriors attempting to even the count with the Rangers who took the first contest earlier this season.

Dave Farrell playing inside, headed the ball out to Mike playing on the left wing and he shot hard and high with the ball just dipping under the cross bar. Shortly after that Bradley, one of the Merrimack Valley League's top scorers, put in his second goal of the day to put St. John's ahead to stay. They scored again in the last quarter for the final score of 3 to 1 St. John's.

This week will be very busy as Austin prep played in Andover on Tuesday, then Thursday night

Andover will play at Methuen, game time 7 p.m. It will be the first night game in Andover's history. On Saturday morning Andover will play Tewksbury at home, kick off at 10:30. This will be the next to the last home game for Andover.

Aquatic Leaders Honored

Three members of the Aquatics Staff of the Andover-North Andover YMCA have recently been honored by the National YMCA Aquatics Council. Recipients of the honors were Mrs. Robert L. Kent, Mrs. Peter Oliver and Miss Shirley Ritchie.

Elaine M. Kent has been appointed National YMCA Aquatic Commissioner for the Northeast Region which includes New England and New York. As commissioner the local YMCA staff member will be responsible for administration of the National YMCA Aquatic Program in the seven states including all aquatic program areas except competitive swimming. She will supervise the ten district aquatic field agents who serve as her assistants and as sectional experts in the field. She is responsible for the training and certification of all leadership for YMCA pools and camps of the area and standardization of teaching and testing at a high level. Mrs. Kent has been serving as YMCA Cluster Field Agent for Eastern Mass. and will assume the regional commissionership on a volunteer basis while continuing as program director at the local YMCA where she also directs the total aquatics program.

Bevolyn Oliver and Shirley Ritchie have received certification as YMCA Aquatic Directors, the highest certification on the leadership level of the YMCA Aquatic Program. Both are veteran volunteers in service to the Andover-North Andover YMCA and both hold Red Cross W.S.I & Phys. Ed. degrees. Mrs. Oliver receiving hers from Ursinus College and Miss Ritchie hers from Trenton State. Mrs. Oliver last year was presented a plaque as the "Outstanding YMCA/ Volunteer of the Year"; she has given 2,800 hours of volunteer service over a period of four years. Presently she is chairman of the local YMCA Phys. Ed. Committee, is chairman of Gymnastics and heads the total Gymnastics program which serves over 700 members, and also directs the summer Gymnastics School.

A Phillips Academy faculty member, in the Physical Education Dept., Shirley Ritchie started her volunteer aquatic service to the Andover-North Andover YMCA in 1967 when YMCA work in Andover was started. Now in her tenth year of service she has recorded over 750 hours, all in the teaching of aquatics. She serves as a member of the YMCA Aquatics Comm. and holds YMCA instructor certifications in Swimming, Lifesaving & Pre-School.

Copies Of Ancient Chinese Murals Are On Exhibit

The exhibition Han and T'ang Murals opened at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, yesterday. This exhibition, shown here for the first time in the Western world, consists of more than 140 copies in color of murals, discovered in 10 tombs that were excavated by Chinese archaeologists during the last 25 years in the northern provinces of the People's Republic of China.

The earliest wall paintings are from a tomb that has been reassembled in the People's park at Lo-yang, Honan Province, and date from the first decades of our era. The last, a series of three mausolea of members of the Li family, the Imperial family of the T'ang Dynasty, all date from the first decade of the eighth century A.D.

In China, copying is an ancient tradition and a highly respected craft, practised at one time or another by all of the great masters. Painters of considerable talent and skill have assisted the archaeological services in preserving and copying the wall paintings found in these tombs. This has made it possible to assemble a unique and colorful pictorial record of the life of farmers and soldiers, courtiers and officials, the gentry and their servants.

The ancient Chinese decorated the tombs of their nobility and the rich with representations that reflect the life of the deceased, his social status, his occupation, and his interests. The wall paintings, therefore, often are an invaluable source of visual information, not only of styles of painting of which no examples have survived in such perishable media as silk and paper, but also of social customs, farming techniques, rituals, entertainment, life at court, and life in China's northernmost areas, where the Han people mingled with the nomadic national minorities.

The exhibition presents a unique opportunity to compare the wall paintings of different tombs. Arranged in chronological order, they give the viewer an entirely new impression of the development of early Chinese painting on a monumental scale.

Photographic reproductions of the same wall paintings, with their copies, afford an opportunity to establish the painstaking accuracy with which these copies have been painted.

The exhibition closes Nov. 22, after which it will travel to other cities in the United States before returning to China.

William J. Barmes

Named Bookstore Manager

William J. Barmes has been named general manager of the new Barnes & Noble Bookstore to open in Boston on Oct. 15 on Washington St. in downtown Boston.

The new Barnes & Noble store represents the first expansion outside of New York of the successful "sale annex" concept the company began in its Fifth Avenue location. Expected to be the largest bookselling operation in New England, the Boston store will sell exclusively books discounted off publishers' list price.

Barmes has experience as manager of two university bookstores, previous to joining Barnes & Noble in 1974. He resides in Andover, with his wife and their two children.

"Going Down to Boston", a free film on Boston's literary heritage sponsored by Boston 200, is at the Boston Public Library, Copley Square, through December. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 1 and 2 p.m.

New Surface Installed On Courts

Ultracourt, a synthetic tennis court surface developed by Pandel-Bradford, Inc., has been installed at two more tennis clubs.

The Old Colony Tennis Club in Andover, switched to the durable Ultracourt surface for two new courts it recently added to its existing complement of four Uni-Turf facilities.

The newly-opened Pine Grove Tennis Club in Camillus, N. Y., will use Ultracourt exclusively for its indoor playing areas.

"Our pro's recommendation was the primary reason we selected Ultracourt," said Pine Grove co-owner Bill Perez. "We did extensive research and examined over 70 other surfaces. We felt Ultracourt has all the characteristics required for good tennis."

John Murphy, co-owner of the Old Colony Tennis Club selected Ultracourt after seeing the recent installation of Pandel-Bradford's athletic surface at a club in nearby Haverhill.

Climate Good For Industry

A favorable report on industrial development outlook for Andover has been prepared by a special committee of the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

James L. Abramson, chairman of the Chamber's Industrial Development committee recommended to Chamber President Douglas N.

Howe, Jr. that the group play a vital role in the town's industrial expansion, based on specific findings.

The committee found that in the past several years, the total payroll of Andover companies had increased $62,305,400 and employee number had gone up by 4,272. The committee also found there were 96 additional establishments here.

Evidence of a continued trend toward industrial development was found in the fact that Shetland Properties, the former Raytheon plant in Shawheen has no space available, Dundee Park is completely occupied and small manufacturing firms in the area are growing and looking to expand.

Responses to recent growth policy questionnaires by the town indicate a desire by the townspeople for "clean" industry to be attracted here.

The attitude of the Selectmen has also improved in this regard the committee notes, through its turning over of the Sacred Heart property in Shawheen to the town's Industrial Development Commission for disposition.

These factors, plus the still large availability of industrially zoned land in Andover points to a continuing increase in the industrial base, the report concludes.

New Program At Planetarium

The new program in the Hayden Planetarium at Boston's Museum of Science brings astronomical figures down to earth.

"How High?" gives a sense of the sizes and distances involved in understanding the universe. It begins with a comparison of the earth's diameter and that of other bodies in the solar system. With special effects on the Planetarium dome, it shows how distances to more remote celestial objects are determined by radar and other means.

Among the program's revelations:

Although the sun is 400 times the diameter of the moon, the sun is also 400 times farther away, so the two bodies appear the same size from the earth, allowing the moon to completely block the sun during a total solar eclipse.

If the sun were hollow, more than one million earths could fit inside it.

Neutron stars are so small they are hardly wide enough to envelope Metropolitan Boston.

Other stars, such as the red supergiants, are hundreds of times greater in diameter than our sun. If the sun were placed at the center of the star Betelgeuse, for example, all the planets out to Mars would lie within the star.

The Andromeda Galaxy, nearest of the spiral galaxies to ours, is more than two million light-years away, and the recently discovered quasars may be up to 20 billion light-years away.

Beach grass, Ammophila breviligulata, has six-foot roots which make it a good sand binder. The sturdy and leathery leaves continue to grow after covered by sand, but they are fragile and if a shoot is broken by foot traffic it dies and cannot regenerate. Massachusetts Audubon points out.

The voice on the taped program is that of local announcer, Jim Pansullo, of WEEI. "How High?" is given through November 28. Times are: Mon., 11 a.m.; Tues.-Fri., 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.; Sat., 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m.; Sun., 12 noon, 2 and 3 p.m.; Fri. night at 8. The fee is 50¢ above Museum admission.

Sweetest Day Is Saturday

The Andover Center Merchants have had considerable success with Sweetest Day and although it is difficult to come up with definitive numbers for any business sales, the promotion of this observance is certainly worthwhile.

Another aspect of importance regarding Sweetest Day observance is getting civic organizations to participate by honoring local citizens at luncheons for specific deeds and those citizens who have given generously of their time and talent to the community should be acknowledged. Not the usual public figures but folks from the neighborhood within our community. Nominations could be handled through the churches, foundations voluntary agencies, etc.

It is the hope of the Center Merchants that more people will become involved in kind deeds on Saturday, Oct. 16, Sweetest Day.

Bowen

The selectmen's initial salvo Monday night was on the annual town meeting and his desire to see the session begin on a Saturday.

The board had agreed with Moderator William Dalton that the opening session should be on Monday, April 25, with the adjourned sessions to follow nightly until the warrant is completed. That decision ultimately stood on a four-one vote, Bowen opposed.

Bowen remarked that he could recall when the annual town meeting began on a Saturday as an all day session. He said he would like to try that method again with any subsequent sessions to be at night.

He said there was reasonable appeal to the residents of the community to set aside a day to transact the town's business. Bowen even suggested that possibly the merchants might consider voluntarily not opening their stores until noon on that particular day.

Selectman Janet Lake reminded Bowen that the Saturdays within the time limitations of the warrant represented a school vacation one week and Easter weekend on another occasion.

Bowen thanked Mrs. Lake for her reminder as well as the loan of her calendar but suggested that the Saturday session could be called for April 30.

He insisted that town meeting be considered and treated as a special day in town, but his colleagues opted for the original suggestion of all evening meetings.

Bowen and Greenberg then got into a discussion of the establishment of the dates of the next meeting.

Greenberg said the board would meet again on Nov. 1, and was asked why, Bowen noting the selectmen meet on the second and fourth Mondays.

Greenberg said the board has agreed on Nov. 1, due to the holiday classification of Oct. 25, the fourth Monday this month. Bowen said he could not recall having acted on the matter.

Greenberg said the board has done this in the past, altered the schedule when necessary.

After a few more requests for clarification by Bowen and responses by Greenberg, Selectman Alan F. French said, "Pardon me but could I ask what this is all about?"

"When we are going to meet," Greenberg replied.

"Why we are not meeting on the second and fourth Mondays," Bowen said.

An official vote was then made to meet on Nov. 1.

Bowen then asked "when will we meet in November?"

Selectman Susan Poore then moved to meet on the second and fourth Mondays in November, which, approved unanimously will have the board in session three times next month.

The selectmen had a lengthy executive session on a legal matter, which was to be followed by a return to the regular agenda. But, as the time approached the 11 p.m. meeting deadline, after the closed door meeting, the five remaining items were dropped to the next regular meeting. All were on the agenda at Bowen's request.

The first item, discussion of water rates was put off at Bowen's request, allowing the town manager and public works director additional time to work on the lengthy questions he had requested answered.

Others put off to the future included the adoption of rules of order and procedure for selectmen's meetings, a discussion of the status of reconstruction of Andover and Elm streets, a discussion of the necessity and advisability of a Selectmen Police Handbook and a discussion of the process for preparation, adoption and execution of the long range capital improvement program or capital budget.
